This two day workshop will provide clinicians with more in-depth and practical information on assessment and treatment of preschooler and school age children using a motor based approach. Case studies and learning activities will be used to illustrate and apply assessment and treatment content. Participants are asked to bring a client case so they have the opportunity to immediately apply workshop material to a child on their caseload.

This workshop expands on the concepts introduced in our one day workshop: "Making a Difference: Best Treatment Practices for Preschool and School-Aged Children with Motor Speech Disorders". It is recommended that participants have previously attended this workshop or have motor speech experience.
