HELPING SCHOOL-AGE CHILDREN FACE THE CHALLENGES OF STUTTERING

Presented by J. Scott Yaruss, PhD, CCC-SLP

<https://www.Yaruss.com>

School-age children who stutter can face many challenges, including negative emotional reactions to stuttering, difficulties participating in class, and limitations interacting with peers. Unfortunately, many SLPs are not confident in their skills for helping children deal with these issues. This workshop will help clinicians overcome their concerns by providing practical strategies for addressing the challenges associated with stuttering. The presentation will include detailed instructions for preparing children for therapy to ensure success, as well as video examples of treatment strategies that help children speak more easily and reduce negative reactions to stuttering, so that they can communicate effectively.
